

LIBERATION WAR MUSEUM. AGARGAON.

The Liberation War Museum is situated in Agargaon, Dhaka, Bangladesh. The Museum consists of many galleries, which store the golden history of Bangladesh. Several galleries highlight the building sectional conflict between West Pakistan and Bangladesh. The Museums potrays a clear view of what had happened during the liberation war. The Museum galleries hold weapons which were used by Bangladeshi army during the war, besides the museum also holds the remains such as skull and bones of the Bangladesh victims killed by Pakistani Army. The various galleries also store different scultures which shows the situation of that time.